CERTIFYING DIAMOND BEAUTY

The BrillianceScope® Analyzer is a patented imaging spectrophotometer that scientifically measures diamond:

BRILLIANCE (white light)

Measures percentage of the diamond returning bright white light to the observer.

FIRE (color light)

Measures percentage of the diamond returning bright colored light to the observer.

SPARKLE (scintillation)

Measures the number of light points and determines how they change.

ASSESSING DIAMOND BEAUTY BY MEASURING BRILLIANCE, FIRE AND SPARKLE

GEMEX DISCLAIMER: Over a million diamonds have been tested to determine the achievable light performance. The "Comparative Light Performance Evaluation Scales", which are based on the results of the BrillianceScope® Analyzer, have been developed to help consumers more easily determine the visual differences between diamonds. Results are repeatable with an accuracy range of +/- 5%. Accuracy standards have been developed and tested by GemEx Systems Inc. This document is not a guaranty, valuation or appraisal.
